

Andrea Schumacher

Vice-President of Federal Office for Migration and Refugees

Professional experience:

- since 2018 Vice-President of Federal Office for Migration and Refugees in Germany
- 2017-2018 Head of the Civil defence/internal security division, Permanent Delegation of the Federal Republic of Germany to NATO
- 2012-2017 Permanent Representation of the Federal Republic of Germany to the EU, Head of Division Home Affairs (Asylum, Migration and Border Control)
- 2008-2012 Federal Ministry of the Interior, Head of Division: International police cooperation; EU cooperation; Europol
- 2006-2008 Federal Ministry of the Interior, Head of Division: International counter-terrorism cooperation
- 2005-2006 Federal Ministry of the Interior, Desk Officer, Division: International counter-terrorism cooperation
- 2000-2005 Permanent Representation of the Federal Republic of Germany to the European Union, Brussels, Desk Officer in the Political Section, Division: Intergovernmental home affairs (crime control, Convention Implementing the Schengen Agreement, security of classified material, disaster management)
- 1992-2000 Federal Ministry of the Interior, Desk Officer in the office of the Federal Commissioner for Data Protection and various other divisions, including the division for international sport matters and the Press Office

Education:

- 1992 Second state examination in law in Stuttgart
- 1989 First state examination in law in Mannheim